MARCELO PAPA, WINEMAKER

From the moment the passionate winemaker took charge of Marques de Casa Concha in 1999, his vitality prompted a renaissance in the brand without compromising its classic style and achieved precisely what the Chilean wine industry needed: modern wines full of character that could open foreign markets for Chilean ultra premium wines.

His wines, always over the 90-point barrier, have earned numerous awards at home and abroad that attest to Concha y Toro's excellence in winemaking and the tremendous coverage its wines receives.

Marcelo Papa is a painstaking yet restless winemaker whose passion, drive, and outstanding professional career earned him the 2004 Winemaker of the Year Award from the Chilean Wine Guide, one of the country's most prestigious publications.

According to international critics, his greatest achievement lies in his ability to leave his personal mark on his wines, and the very high scores they consistently receive is proof of his ability to make wines with tremendous personality and a true sense of origin that convey both quality and character.

"Its classic style aims to achieve the best concentration and finest character of the variety. Obviously, the origin and selection of grapes have been crucial to obtain the quality and consistency of Marques de Casa Concha Cabernet Sauvignon over more than a decade". Marcelo Papa.
